He stated that out of a herd of twenty-four milch cows, he found that four were suffering from tuberculosis in its worse stages; that others showed undoubted symptoms of disease, and that the whole herd was likely to become affected.

The milk from this herd is distributed at various localities, but the major portion of it is sent to Middletown, N. Y. where it is concensed, put up in sealed cans and shipped to New York, where it is put on sale and most of it is consumed.

The whole herd, Dr. Roberts thinks, will undoubtedly be condemned and slaughtered by the State Board of Health,
the memebers of which are fully alive
to the dangers arising to public health
from such sources.

Dr. Roberts has not made up his mind whether or not to prosecute Smith, but declares that whatever the determination of the Board of Health might be in this particular instance, the next person whom it could be found was guilty of selling diseased meat or milk to New of selling diseased meat or milk to New York would be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

In his complaint Mr. Grant swears that on April 18, 1833, he loaned Cunningham $525; on May 26, 1833, $150, and on Sept. 14, 1833, $410.

There has been other transactions between the two, and on Feb 3, Mr. Grant swears, that there was due him $1,431.93, for which a statement was rendered Cunningham.

According to Mr. Grant's affidavit, however, before the statement was drawn up, he had become convinced that Cunningham had made false and fraudulent misrepresentations to him by which he had secured the credit. At the time Grant had begun an action against Cunningham and secured an order for his arrest.

Grant says he then possessed as serourity for his indebtedness eight bonds of $500 each of the Shelbyville, Ind., a Electric Railroad; ten shares, $100 each, Thurber-Whyland Company common as stock; one acceptance, $1,500, of F. B. Thurber for four months, and 1,250 counterfelt Money Orders.
